Exactly what I was looking for

By A. Scholz

This is a great resource. I'm a graphic designer and have been looking for full color illustrations of flowers and fruit like this for a while. Lots of online stock photo/illustration sites sell similar artwork for anywhere from $75-250 each. Here you get a large variety for under $20.

Classic botanicals

By Mary Kelly

There's amazing depth and beauty to the botanical paintings by Pierre Redoute that print crisply. The graphics are easy to resize for different applications and the selection is extensive, with an emphasis on rose species and lots and lots of fruits. The images beg to be used for making stationery...a red rose on a sticker to attach to a valentine's envelope is irresistible, primroses add interest to a letter written to a friend in springtime. All the images give both common and botanical names. They make you want to create a gardening newsletter.
